BMJ Case Reports

Global Health submission template

TITLE OF CASE Do not include "a case report"
150 WORD SUMMARY Focus the summary on the case or the Global Health problem that you want to discuss. You may wish to give an indication of the severity of the case or the scale of the problem
CASE PRESENTATION Explain the relevant features of the case in sufficient detail so that someone in another country would have a good understanding of who you are describing. Go back to the history of the problem, and forward to the outcomes that have resulted
GLOBAL HEALTH PROBLEM LIST Just list the problems raised in the case. These will be discussed more precisely in the section below
GLOBAL HEALTH PROBLEM ANALYSIS The problem analysis directly addresses each problem in your case that needs attention to achieve a better health outcome for the patient. This should be a well-researched and balanced account. Find and appraise all the relevant medical, epidemiological and socio-political literature. Explaining missing epidemiological data is important in the appraisal of the literature. Make sure you discuss all the relevant aspects of the case, including important anthropological, cultural and community issues
